Solution:

1. Rxt8ch! Kxt8 2. N6ch
fix6 3. Qxt4ch.

“West led the queen of spades and continued spades,” I was told. “My partner ruffed the third spade and drew trumps, but next he led a diamond to dummy’s king and finessed with his jack. West won and took his ace of clubs for down one. It’s clear that my partner’s memory is overloaded.”

If West discards deceptively, saving the Q-10 of diamonds and A-J of clubs, declarer will still have a good chance to go right.

ANSWER: Your partner has “reversed” and promises substantial extra strength. Game is likely, but you should not persist with notrump since partner might have a hand such as A Q 4 3, A Q J 6 5, A Q, 7 2. Bid three hearts if you’re sure he won’t pass. Otherwise, bid three spades or jump to four hearts.

I THINK YOU'RE CONFUSING MIDDLE SCHOOL WITH HOGWARTS.

NO. AFTER ALL, THAT ONLINE QUIZ SAYS I'M A RAVENCLAW, SO I SHOULD BE PRETTY SHARP ABOUT THESE THINGS.
